M.F. HOLLOMAN, JR., 48, dies, brother of Sara Holloman, wife of Manna Rich Ariail

Rapides Parish Deputy Sheriff in Ill Health Some Time

Millard F. Holloman, Jr., Rapides parish deputy sheriff and popular Alexandria citizen, died at his home, 815 Thirteenth street, in this city at 1:40 o'clock, p.m. on Monday, July 4, 1932.

Although deceased had been in ill health for some time, having undergone an operation, a month ago, his death was sudden. He was able to be up and had gone across the street, to the home of Mr. George T. Neal, a neighbor, who had passed away, early Monday morning, and it was there that he was stricken with the fatal attack. He was carried to his home, and although several physicians ministered to him in an effort to relieve him, all efforts proved futile, and he passed away in a short time.

The death of this good citizen came as a severe shock, to the entire community and will be received with deep regret by everyone. The position he occupied, had given him an opportunity to come in contact with citizens from all sections of Rapides parish, and he probably had as many acquaintances as any man in the parish, practically all of whom were his friends.

He was possessed of a retiring demeanor, but was genial and affable in his intercourse with his fellowmen and his friends were legion. He was never so happy as when he could extend a favor to those who appealed to him.

Millard F. Holloman was a native of Harrisonburg, Catahoula parish, having been born January 27, 1884, and was therefore 48 years, 5 months and 8 days of age, at the time of his demise. He was a son of M.F. Holloman and Mary E. Thompson. His paternal grandparents were Jesse P. Holloman and Sarah Waggoner and his maternal grandparents were Dr. Silas C. Thompson and Catherine Gatlin, pioneer citizens of Catahoula parish. He was reared to manhood in his native town and was educated in public schools. During his early manhood he was engaged as a clerk in his father's store in Harrisonburg.

He moved with his family to Alexandria nearly twenty five years ago, and has been a resident of this city since. He has been one of the efficient office deputies in the office of Sheriff Downs ever since that official has served as sheriff of the parish. He also served in the same capacity under Former Sheriff F. E. David. He was considered by his employers and associates as a most efficient office man. Sheriff Downs paid high tribute to the deceased in expressing his regret at his passing. He declared that he was the only member of his official staff that he had never had to reprimand.

In 1906 he was married to Miss Kathleen Cruse, daughter of C.W. Cruse, of Grayson, Caldwell parish, who, with six children, survive him. His children are: J.P. Holloman, Hilary C. Holloman, E.G. Holloman, Mrs. R.O. Rush, Vernon Holloman and Luclus Holloman.

He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Dr. S.C. Holloman, of Houston, Texas; Dr. L.W. Holloman, of Glenmore; Mrs. John W. Buie, Mrs. C.G. David, Mrs. George Lockett, all of Alexandria; and Mrs. Tom Staples, of Meridian, Miss.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist Church and attended the services of the sanctuary whenever it was possible for him to do so.

His funeral took place this afternoon. Services were conducted at the family home in Thirteenth street, by Rev. N.E. Joyner, pastor of the First Methodist Church, after which interment was made in Greenwood Memorial Park, under the direction of Hixson Bros., local funeral directors.

Mr. Boggs, whose work as a practicing architect carried him throughout Western North Carolina and into neighboring states, retired last year. Earlier he had maintained his own office in Morganton, and had at different times been with architectural firms in the State.

Early in his career he engaged in newspaper work in a reportorial capacity.

W.H. Ariail was a native of South Carolina. At what time he came to Georgia and settled on Nails Creek, where he lived until his death in 1894, we do not know. He was a citizen of Georgia as long ago as the writer can remember. He was baptized into the fellowship of Nails Creek Church in August, 1860, (he was the first person I ever saw baptized), by David H. Payne. Up to the time of his uniting with the Baptist church, he was a Class Leader in the Methodist Society. When inquired of by the writer of this sketch why he joined the Baptist Church, he said that Payne taught him the way of the Lord more perfectly than he had ever been taught; that upon investigation he learned that he had always been a Baptist, only he didn't know it. The only licensed Minister, he was a very useful man. He was a man of great influence in his home church and was always on the right side of every question, and a man of unusual firmness and decision of character. He passed away in 1894. His body sleeps in the cemetery at Nails Creek, the church he loved so well. "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints."

JULIUS E. BOGGS, A brother to Thomas Hamilton Boggs, husband of Kate Archer Ariail and also a brother to Malinda Boggs, mother of Lydia Smith who married William Fields Ariail.

Julius E. Boggs, died in Anderson.

Julius Boggs, of Pickens, one of the most prominent men of the up-state, died at the Anderson County Hospital Thursday night at twenty minutes after seven o'clock. Mr. Boggs had been there for treatment since Sunday morning. Death was due to kidney trouble.

Mr. Boggs was born February 14, 1854, in Pickens County, where his forefathers came from Ireland. He was reared on the farm, and in early manhood engaged in the mercantile business. He then taught school for several years and at the age of 26 was admitted to the bar., having read law under Capt. C.L. Hollingsworth, at Pickens. This was in the year 1880. With the exception of a brief period in 1882 when he practiced law at Marshall, Texas, Mr. Boggs lived and followed his profession in Pickens from 1881 until 1913. In 1882 he was elected solicitor of the Eighth Judicial circuit, which position he held for eight years, retiring to run for congress. He was the first president of the Pickens railroad and at one time was editor of the Pickens Sentinel and a member of the State Press association. He was a member of the Grand Lodge of Masons, and also was a member of the Knights of Pythias. On December, 24, 1882, he married Miss Minnie Lee Bruce, of Pickens, who preceded him to the grave. Mr. Boggs was an elder of the Presbyterian Church.

Four children survive him. They are Miss Helen Boggs, of Pickens, and Messrs, LeRoy of Cincinnati, Bruce of Los Angeles and Julius E. Boggs of Easley. His two sisters are Mrs. T.H. Smith, of Easley and Mrs. H. I. Horton of Columbia.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon at five o'clock at Pickens. The body left Anderson over the P. & N. lines.

Funeral services were held in the Pickens Presbyterian church and conducted by Rev. Mr. Dodge of Anderson, assisted by Rev. J.C. Bailey and Rev. D.W. Hoitt. The body was laid to rest in the church cemetery by the side of the grave of his wife. Many magnificent and beautiful floral offerings were sent by friends.

Few citizens in the Piedmont section were more popular than Mr. Boggs. During his service as solicitor he had occasion to visit repeatedly the counties of Greenville, Anderson, Pickens and Oconee, which comprised his circuit. He was an orator of unusual ability and when the news got abroad that he was to speak in a case of interest the court rooms were usually packed. His white hair and his face were familiar sights in all the court house cities of his circuit, as well as in other cities and communities. He was often called upon for addresses at social gatherings, and in other ways was in demand. Today when men talk of court house experiences, or of speeches heard within the walls of the temples of justice of the old Eighth circuit, almost invariably some one will recall the speeches which Mr. Boggs made in this or that case. One of his points of strength was his oratory and his ability to pick out the essentials of a case, presenting them in a manner such as was sure to impress the jurors. He often, by forcible presentation of evidence, nerved the jury to the duties imposed upon it.

ROBERT H. CURETON, grandson of Climelia Abigail Ariail

Robert H. Cureton, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Cureton, died at the home of his parents on Vardry street last evening at 7 o'clock.

Several days ago Mr. Cureton came to the city from his present home in Pickens for medical treatment, he being in declining health, and while he was known to be very ill his death came as a shock to his family and friends.

He was a native of this city and was well known as a young man of splendid business ability and was of such a genial and pleasant disposition that he was popular with everyone who knew him.

He has been engaged in the cotton oil mill business for several years and was employed in the mill in this city. Afterwards he became a manager of a mill in Sumter and he then removed to Greenwood and held the same position there for several years. About a year ago he organized and became the manager of a mill at Pickens Court House and has made his home there since.

His wife, who was Miss Mary Blassingame of this city, with five children survive. Mrs. Cureton, who is also quite ill at her home in Pickens, will be unable to attend the funeral of her husband. Besides his parents, four brothers, Andrew S., Abner O., Lander and Richard Cureton, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Richey and Miss Louise Cureton, survive.

He was a charter member of St. Paul's Methodist church. He was a member of Recovery Lodge, A.F.M., also of the local camp Woodmen of the World.

The funeral announcement will be made later.--Greenville News, May 11.

The funeral services were held at the residence of his father on Thursday at 11 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. T.G. Herbert. His remains was laid to rest in the Springwood cemetery, the funeral services at the grave being conducted by the Masonic lodge.

Bob was held in high esteem by all who knew him, and while he had only been in Pickens a short time, he had made many friends and admirers.

Many of the citizens of Pickens and Easley attended the funeral.

SUSANAH CAROLINE ORR, wife of Warren Archibald Hamilton. He was a nephew of Lemuel Greenlee Hamilton and son of William Archibald "Devil Bill" Hamilton who was a brother to Lemuel Greenlee Hamilton, husband of Climelia Abigail Ariail. This is also very interesting because her sister, Narcissus Emaline Orr married John Milton Barr, a nephew of Mary Adelaide Barr, wife of William Harrison Ariail.

Mrs. Hamilton, widow of the late Warren Hamilton, died at her home about one mile east of Easley last Tuesday morning, March 3rd, and was buried the day following. She had passed the allotted time of life and had been in bad health for some time. She leaves several children, grandchildren and other relatives and friends to mourn her death. Truly "a mother in Israel" has gone to her reward.

DAVID T. CURETON, grandson of Climelia Abigail Ariail & son of Chloe Jane Hamilton

He Is Gone!

Those were the words that fell upon expectant ears of loving relatives and friends that stood around the bedside of David T. Cureton last Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, as his spirit winged its flight into realms of eternity. For weeks he had been confined to his bed and suffered untold pain, but through it all he was conscious of an approaching end. He bore his afflictions patiently, never for one time did he murmur, but calmly awaiting for the summons from on high, which when given, found him watching and waiting. He just closed his eyes and slept.

He was the youngest son of Mr. P.D. Cureton, the spirit of the father having taken its departure about one year ago.

His untimely death, upon the very threshold of a career full of promise, and just at the age when life gives forth its sweetest fragrance, for he was only 23 years old, has left the family bereaved of a beloved son. His death was profoundly impressed and deeply moved his relatives and friends.

"To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die."

As a son, he was obedient and kind--as a brother, loving and cheerful--as a friend, steadfast and true.

He leaves a mother, one brother and three sisters and a host of friends to mourn his untimely death.

His remains was buried Sunday afternoon in West View cemetery. Rev. M.L. Banks of the Methodist church conducted the last sad rites of the dead.

DEATH OF MRS. S. F. SEAY, Anna Cureton, granddaughter of Climelia Abigail Ariail. First husband was Luther C. Richey.

Passed Away Suddenly Yesterday at Her Home on Garlington Street.

The very sudden death of Mrs. S.F. Seay at her home on Garlington street has cast a shadow over the entire neighborhood. The end came on yesterday at about 2:30 p.m. She was in her accustomed health on Tuesday and after supper retired with the family. At about midnight, being aroused by her baby, who had not been well for some days, she found herself suffering from a nervous condition which seemed, however, to pass away about two o'clock. This was but the forerunner of the paralytic stroke which came at four o'clock and terminated as stated above. She did not speak after the fatal stroke and seemed unconscious to the end.

Mrs. Seay was a consistent member of the St. Paul M.E. Church, South. She was the eldest daughter of the late Abner H. Cureton, who died just nine months ago.

Mrs. Seay was married about eighteen years ago to Mr. L. C. Richey, who died a little more than eight years ago, leaving as a result of this marriage three children, a daughter and two sons. Two years ago she married S.F. Seay, who survives her. Mrs. Seay leaves besides a host of friends and relatives, a mother, a sister; Miss Louise Cureton, four brothers, Andrew S., Abner C., Lander, and Richard L. Cureton, a husband and four children. Hester, Luther and Willie Richey and Abner Cureton Seay.

The funeral services will be conducted at the residence, 101 Garlington street, this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The pallbearers are: W.W. Childress, J.I. West, J.R. Martin, M.S. Scruggs, W.N. Hackney, C.B. Blackwelder, J.T. Blassingame, Crawford Clapp.

RICHARD ERNEST FREDETTE, son of Eleanor Theresa Ariail, 3rd cousin twice removed of James Patterson.

*TAPS ARE SOUNDED FOR FREDETTE TODAY
Death Came Tuesday Night After Four Hopeless Weeks
With Broken Neck, He Was Conscious Almost To The Last*

After having lived just a month with a broken neck, Richard Ernest Fredette of Middlebury, a member of Company I. V. N. G., died at the Post hospital at Fort Ethan Allen at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, reiterating almost to the last that his greatest grief was that he could not follow his comrades to the battlefield. In a flag draped coffin in which his body was removed from Burlington to Middlebury on Wednesday evening, he is being buried here today, with funeral services at his home conducted by President Thomas of Middlebury College. A bugler, Musician Nugar of Fort Ethan Allen, was detailed here to sound taps over the grave.

The bearers were: Benjamin Cota, Milton Brown, Denzil Glavin, Thomas Bushway, Thomas Burns and Frank Goss.

Up to within a short time of his death Fredette, although practically all of his body was paralyzed, was conscious and talked with his mother, Mrs. John Fredette, who had been at his bedside most of the time. He had talked a great deal of his comrades and when the regiment was broken up with the departure of a large portion of it for Massachusetts, he, realizing he would never be able to accompany it was greatly affected.

His case was practically hopeless from the time he entered the hospital with injuries sustained when he dived into shallow water while swimming in Lake Champlain on August 5. At the hospital when it was determined that his neck was broken a delicate operation performed for the removal of part of the vertebra, but the surgeons realized that at best this would only give him a few weeks of life. The paralysis gradually spread and on Sunday he practically lost consciousness.

Fredette, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fredette, would have reached his 20th birthday the 17th of next month. He enlisted in Company I, of Brattleboro just prior to the departure of the First Vermont for Mexican border service, his brother, Warren Fredette of Brattleboro, being at that time a sergeant in that Company, and since discharged.

He is survived by four brothers and five sisters, in addition to his parents. The brothers being Roland of Drewsville, N.H., Fred and Harry of Westmoreland, N.H., and Warren of Brattleboro. His sisters are Mrs. Arthur Bisette and Miss Eleanor Fredette of Middlebury and Mrs. W.A. Shaw and Mrs. Arthur Grover of Brattleboro.

Military honors were paid by the soldiers at Fort Ethan Allen when Fredette's body was removed, the hearse being surrounded by four guards and conducted along Officers' Row out of the Reservation, accompanied by the Second Cavalry band. While the procession passed down the highway, several hundred medical men who were drilling on the parade ground stood at attention and the National colors were brought to half mast.

Born Into Eternal Life

August 24, 1991

I am home in heaven, dear ones;

Oh, so happy and so bright!

There is perfect joy and beauty

In this everlasting light.

All the pain and grief is over,
Every restless tossing passed;
I am now at peace forever,
Safely home in heaven at last.
There is work still waiting for you,
So you must not idly stand;
Do it now, while life remaineth—
You shall rest in God's own land.
When the work is all completed,
He will gently call you Home;
Oh, the rapture of that meeting,
Oh, the joy to see you come!

St. Ambrose

IN YOUR CHARITY

Pray for the Repose of the soul of

Rose Wilson

Died March 10, 1949

Prayer

Gentlest Heart of Jesus, ever present in the Blessed Sacrament, ever consumed with burning love for the poor captive souls in Purgatory, have mercy on the soul of Thy servant, bring her far from the shadow of exile to the bright home of Heaven, where, we trust, Thou and Thy Blessed Mother, have woven for her a crown of unending bliss.
Amen.

May She Rest in peace. Amen.

Your gentle face and patient smile,
With sadness we recall.
You had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and stilled the heart,
That loved us well and true.
Ah, bitter was the trial to part,
From one so good as you.

You are not forgotten loved one,
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

The point of departure for the band was the army recruitment office at the corner of St. Patrice and Dalhousie Streets. The brass band did not again begin to play until it was two or three streets away from the scene.

Immediately after the accident, the paramedics placed the victim on a stretcher and then transferred him into a jeep that left with full speed to the General Hospital.

The Constable, Austin Carkner, the inspector for the Covenant children of the school, was witness to the accident and made the necessary notations. The doctor A. L. Richard, coroner, has declared that he will hold an investigation on the death of the child.
