MR. AND MRS. J.A. ARIAIL, celebrate golden anniversary Sunday

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ariail was celebrated at their home in Maysville with open house Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. They were married December 26, 1907.

Mrs. J. A. Ariail, the former Miss Lizzie Garrison, was graciously attired in a royal blue crepe dress enhanced by a yellow rose corsage. Yellow was predominantly used as the color theme throughout the home. There were two beautiful arrangements of flowers, one of yellow gladiolas and one of yellow mums. The mantel was decorated with candles and gold dried arrangements. The front door was decorated with a large gold bell in a spray.

The dining table was covered with a lace table cloth over gold taffeta. In the center the three tiered cake was beautifully decorated in white with yellow rose buds and green leaves, and a large 50 on the top. The cake was encircled with yellow roses and greenery.

A large punch bowl, encircled with yellow pompoms and greenery was placed at the other end of the table. Gold rimmed dishes of mints and nuts were placed at intervals along the table.

Individual cakes, iced in white with a yellow rose bud and green leaf were served with punch. White napkins with two bells and names, Lizzie and Joe, 1907-1957 stamped in gold were used.

The two sons, Mr. J.A. Ariail, Jr., and Mr. H. L. Ariail, greeted the friends and relatives at the door. The oldest daughter, Mrs. Thelma A. Ellison, kept the guest book. The daughters-in-law, Mrs. J. A. Ariail, Jr., and Mrs. H. L. Ariail, served punch and cake with the assistance of the granddaughters, Linda Fleming and Joanne Radford, serving mints, nuts, and napkins. The other three daughters, Mrs. Daniel Haines, Mrs. Marvin Fleming and Mrs. Joseph Radford, Jr., received the gifts and opened them for display.

Four Generations

An interesting highlight of the afternoon was that four generations of the Ariail family were present, Mr. and Mrs. Ariail, their daughter, Mrs. Thelma A. Ellison, grandson, Mr. William H. Ellison, Jr., and great grandson, Anthony William (Tony) Ellison.

Lander Cureton left Greenville yesterday at 12:25 over the Southern for Greenville, Ala., where he will be married this afternoon at 5 o'clock to Miss. Corinne Till. Shortly after the ceremony Mr. Cureton and his bride will leave for Greenville, arriving here Thursday evening.

Miss Till is a very charming young lady. She has visited Greenville on a number of occasions and is well known here and in Simpsonville also, where she has relatives. Mr. Cureton is a son of A.H. Cureton, manager of the South Carolina Cotton Oil company. His many friends wish him much success in life.

MISS JEFFIE WELBORN, daughter of Elizabeth Climelia Ariail, Marriage at Easley

Mr. L.H. White and Miss Jeffie Welborn were married Wednesday at the home of the bride in Easley. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Wiggins.

Shortly after the marriage Mr. and Mrs. White came to Greenville, where they were the guests until yesterday afternoon of Mr. John Wyatt in West Greenville. They left yesterday for Birmingham, Ala., where they will make their future home.

Miss Welborn is a daughter of Mrs. A. J. Welborn of Easley and a very attractive young lady. Mr. White is in business in Birmingham, Ala.

Married, on the 22d instant, at the residence of and by B.D. Mauldin, N.P. Miss Nora Chapman to Mr. Crayton Oliver, the bride is a granddaughter of Mr. Silas Curtis, the groom is a son of Mr. T.G. Oliver, both of this county. May they have a pleasant and prosperous journey through life.

MISS MABEL CLAIRE HENDERSON, granddaughter of Climelia Elizabeth Ariail
Henderson-Williams

Beauty and simplicity marked the consummation of the wedding vows of Miss Mabel Claire Henderson and Mr. Ford W. Williams at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ross Henderson of Easley, on Wednesday evening, June 2, at 6:30 o'clock. Rev. D.W. Hiott of Pickens, former pastor of the bride, officiating.

The interior of this home was lovely, a soft and tasteful decoration of pink and white. The hall was effectively decorated with ferns and beautiful white roses. The large room on the right was used for the ceremony room, while a similar room on the left was the room in which the guests assembled. Both rooms were beautiful in their simple but lovely decoration of tiny pink roses, large ferns and palms. The mantels being banked in both rooms with the little pink roses and innumerable tall white candles were used, from which gleamed the soft glow of the lighted tapers.

Mrs. B.G. Collins of Birmingham, Ala., beautifully rendered the wedding March to which entered the only attendants, Miss Margaret Jameson and Mr. Bob Lathem; then came the bride and groom, who took their places under a lovely arch of pink roses. Mrs. Collins played "A Garland of Old Fashioned Roses" very softly during the impressive ceremony. In this beautifully arranged room and surrounded by relatives and a few close friends the two betrothed hearts were made one.

Immediately after the ceremony a delicious ice course bearing out the color scheme of pink and white was served by Misses Mae Pepper and Olive Henderson.

The bride was attired in a most becoming suit of blue with hat and gloves to match. Mrs. Williams, as Miss Henderson, is a young woman of unusual personal charm and attraction, and has a host of friends here who regret to give her up, but are glad that her home is no farther moved than Dacusville.

Mr. Williams is a prominent young merchant of Dacusville, and is held in the highest esteem by his numerous friends.

Many handsome and useful presents attested the popularity of this couple. They will be at home to their many friends in Dacusville after June 9.

MOLLIE ARIAIL, daughter of William Henry Harrison Ariail
A Marriage of Much Interest

A marriage of much interest in Easley took place at the home of the bride's mother when Miss Mollie, daughter of Mrs. W.H. Ariail became the bride of Dr. J.C. Walker. The ceremony was performed at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, January 30th last by a life long friend of the bride's family, Rev. D.W. Hiott. Only a few friends and near relatives were present to witness the ceremony. Mrs. Walker as Miss Ariail was very popular and numbered her friends by the score. Dr. Walker came to Easley several years ago from Williamston and has built up a large practice as a dentist, and is regarded as one of our very best citizens. They left immediately after the ceremony on their bridal trip to Atlanta, Nashville and other points. After their return to Easley they will live at Dr. Walker's beautiful suburban home. They have the love and best wishes of many friends.

Early School Groups.

Corner Grove School—1914.

Historical Trail

By John McCravy

It is a real joy to do this column each week and especially so when a fine friend gives us a good picture of a school group with all of the information.

We have known Ralph Hamlin of Route 1 for almost 60 years and in the picture made in 1914, we find several dozen of our fine citizens who attended the Corner Grove School. We also see others who died but still have relatives living in this area today.

On behalf of all pupils shown in this photograph, we wish to thank Mr. Ralph Hamlin for allowing us to bring you this picture with a list of their names.

Third row: Louie Tinsley, Dewey King, Lonnie Henderson, Edna King, Easter Tinsley, the teacher, Mary Lesley Whitlock, Clara Henderson, Mary Holliday, Ethel Shirley, Jess Hamlin, Harlow Hamlin, Dock Gillespie, Simon Holliday, Ansel Black.

Of the 42 pupils here I find only 23 still living. One who left the community and his whereabouts were never known.

One teacher who taught here is still living. Mrs. Mattie (Hinton) Fowler.

Ariail-Ward

Luke Ives Ariail, South Carolina Family Line.

Mrs. Audley H. Ward, formerly Miss Nell Lucile Ariail of this city, whose marriage yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, was an occasion of beauty, taking place at the home of her brother, Dr. C. C. Ariail on Augusta street.

Mrs. Ward is strikingly beautiful, and possesses many enviable traits that have combined in making her one of South Carolina's most popular young women. She is seen in the beautiful gown in which she was married.

Ariail-Ward Marriage Occasion Of Beauty And Prominence.

The marriage of Miss Nell Lucile Ariail and Audley Hoffman Ward was one of the outstanding events of Greenville society taking place Saturday evening, July 20.

Marriage Ceremony.

The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of the bride's brother, Dr. C. C. Ariail, 1207 Augusta street, and was attended by an assemblage of relatives and friends of both families, a large number of whom came to Greenville especially for the occasion.

The marriage service was read by the bride's father, the Rev. J. W. Ariail of Meggetts assisted by her brother, the Rev. W. G. Ariail of Garnett.

Preceding the appearance of the bridal party, Mrs. J. M. Ariail, of Columbia, sang "All For You and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Browning Goldsmith. Mrs. Goldsmith also provided Lohengrin's wedding march for the processional, and Mendelssohn's march at the conclusion of the service.

Striking Decorations.

The ceremony room was in bridal green and white, and the improvised altar was arranged before double windows, where pedestal baskets held white gladioli, the handles of which were tied with white tulle. Further beauty and dainty were added to the scene by the use of handsome palms, and candelabra holding lighted white tapers burned, were placed on the white tulle and smilax, and tall candle-sticks, in which white tapers turned, were placed on the mantel. At effective places about the room were white gladioli and fern in graceful baskets and vases, the entire setting afforded a scene of picturesque beauty.

Bridal Party.

Miss Cecilia Ariail, of Columbia was maid of honor, and was beautifully gowned in violet chiffon, showing the popular uneven hemline of a very full skirt. She carried an arm bouquet of butter-fly roses. Miss Elizabeth Bland, of Mayesville, was bridesmaid and appeared in a stunning gown of pink chiffon, with flowing skirt and uneven hem-line, and carried an armful of Killarney roses. Little Miss Carolyn Ariail was junior bridesmaid and was unusually attractive in a frock of flower-like beauty, fashioned of soft pink chiffon. She carried a Colonial nosegay of pink roses and forget-me-nots.

Little William Ariail of Garnett, was the stately young ring bearer, who wore a becoming suit of white satin, and carried the ring in a lily.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. C. C. Ariail, and the best man was Clarence Owens, of Aiken.

Beautiful Bride.

The bride, who is noted for her stately beauty, is a pronounced brunette, and for her wedding she wore a gown of blush chiffon and tulle, that was exceedingly becoming to her type. The bodice was long and close fitting, and heavily beaded in silver and pearls, with a very full skirt of tulle, uneven at the hem-line. A train of blush tulle fell from the dress in the back, and the veil was drawn softly around the face, and caught to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms, one of the family heirlooms.

To complete her beautiful costume the bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Lovely Reception.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held for the guests present at the marriage. Bridal green and white was carried out in the reception rooms and in the dining room yellow and white were the chosen colors.

In the entrance hall at the top of the stairway, was a huge basket of white gladioli, tied with tulle, and at the foot of the stairs was a mass of palms gracefully banked. Over the lights was a shower of tulle and pale green valley-lilies. In the dining room the table was covered with imported lace, with a central decoration of yellow dahlias, and four silver candlesticks holding yellow candles. On the buffet were yellow dahlias and yellow candles burning in silver candle-sticks, and the serving-table was adorned with similar decorations. Yellow and white block cream was served with individual cakes iced in yellow.

Mrs. Milton G. Smith and Mrs. Homer Hungerford were seated at the table to cut the cream, and Misses Susan Graham and Elizabeth Newman assisted in serving the guests. Mrs. C. D. Wilson and Mrs. Phillips Hungerford received in the dining room. On their arrival the guests were received at the door by Mrs. George Buchanan and Mrs. Allen Graham.

In the library, where the large number of handsome wedding gifts were placed, Mrs. Guy Hunter received, and the room was presided over by Mrs. Flournov Shepperson and Mrs. W. D. Workman. Miss Ethel Willis kept the bride's register.

Bridal Pair.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Ward left for a wedding trip by motor through the North Carolina mountains, Virginia and points north, after which they will go to their future home in Aiken. For traveling the bride changed from her wedding gown to a chic going-away ensemble of black satin, with blouse of jade green silk, and accessories harmonizing. With this was worn a close-fitting black satin hat with ornament of rhinestones.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. J. W. Ariail, of Meggetts, and the late Mrs. Carolyn Hodges Ariail, and possesses marked beauty and a charming personality, which have won for her the friendship of a large number wherever she has resided. She received her education at Columbia college, and has been an efficient member of the faculty of the Greenville schools and those of Columbia.

Since her engagement was announced, the bride has been tendered a group of elaborate social functions by her numerous friends. Mr. Ward is district agent of the extension department of Clemson college, and is one of South Carolina's most prominent young men, with a host of personal friends. He is an alumnus of Clemson college, and received his M. A. degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Out-of-Town guests.

Among the guests here for the wedding last evening, in addition to members of the bridal party, were the following: Miss Ethelyn Peterson, of Spartanburg; Miss Kitty Evans, of Greer; Mrs. Miller Brown, of Laurens; Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Parker, of Laurens; Mr. and Mrs. William Dotterer, of Charleston; Mrs. Arthur Laird, of Columbia; Miss Grace Harrelson, of Marion; Mrs. W. H. Ritter, of Columbia; Miss Susie Lanier, of Bonneau; Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Ariail, of Columbia; Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Ariail, of Meggetts; Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Ariail, of Garnett.

Maid-Of-Honor In Ariail Rites.

Miss Cecilia Ariail, of Columbia, who was maid-of-honor for Miss Nell Ariail, whose marriage last evening to Audley Ward, was a beautiful event of the mid-summer season in Greenville society.

This lovely visitor has been present at many of the pre-nuptial parties that were given for Miss Ariail, as bride-elect.

Bride-Elect Honored.

One of the loveliest parties of the season was given Friday afternoon by Miss Mary Scott for Miss Belva Haynsworth, whose marriage to Dr. J. M. Ariail, of Columbia, will take place July 29. The guest upon arrival were met at the door by the charming hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. G. Scott, and invited in to enjoy punch, served by Mrs. Ernest Ivey, who is a recent bride of the city. The guests were then presented with tally cards and after finding their places, an hour was spent playing bridge. Out of the thirty guests present, Mrs. Robert Howell proved to be the lucky one of the afternoon winning the high score prize. The two recent brides, Mrs. Ernest Ivey and Mrs. Pete Thornell were also presented with lovely gifts.

Just as this was completed, the door-bell rang and a Western Union boy brought in a telegram for Miss Belva Haynsworth. Upon opening it, she learned the news through a pleasing little rhyme that her fiancé was madly splashing through mud to arrive in ten minutes and true to his word as the tenth minute came, in he walked with his grey suit, spectacles, straw hat, and tan shoes, carrying his ever-present brief case. Pausing in the doorway for a moment or so he nervously took off his glasses and wiped his eyes, also performed many of his other unique habits. After rushing up to embrace the bride-elect, he presented her with his brief case. Amid blushes she opened it to find with much surprise that it contained instead of Shakespeare books and papers, lovely gifts for her, brought by the guests present. The miniature Dr. Ariail proved to be Mary Heapt. Her make-up and interpretation of the groom were fine and caused many a laugh because of their similarity.

Ice cream and cake were served during the afternoon.

Morning News Review, Florence, South Carolina, Aug 1, 1926

Bridal Party Entertained Wednesday.

After the rehearsal at the church on Wednesday evening the Haynsworth-Ariail bridal party was entertained at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Haynsworth, at an informal reception which was much enjoyed. Upon arrival they were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Will Haynsworth, of Darlington.

Ice Cream and cake were served, Mrs. Mason C. Brunson and Mrs. Harry Saunders cutting the cream.

The feature of the evening, and one that caused much merriment, was the cutting of the bride's cake, which was presided over by Mrs. B. M. Hamer. The "symbol hunt" was a serious occupation for a few minutes, and resulted as follows: Miss Clara Haynsworth drew the ring, Miss Belva Hudson the thimble, Haynsworth Jones the anchor, Miss Annie Frierson the button, Miss Mary Shipp the sport, Miss Margaret Ketchin the wish-bone, J. T. Hudson the horse shoe, Miss Belva Jenkinson the dime, and Miss Florence Howell the Wedding Bell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robertson and the groom is the son of Mrs. M. Cecchetti and the late Mr. Cecchetti.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of peau de sole, styled with princess lines at front and sweeping back fullness. Lace applique trimmed the skirt front and bodice. Her chapel veil misted from a coronet and she carried a white Bible mounted with Madonna lilies.

A dress of mauve organza over floral taffeta in mauve and purple shades was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Catherine Arial, sister of the bride. Her hat was of matching baby chrysanthemum blossoms and she carried a bouquet of baby chrysanthemums and Sweetheart roses.

Leslie Jean Arial, the bride's niece, was flower girl. Her frock was of mauve dimity. In her hair she wore a band of white flowers and she carried a nosegay similar to the senior attendant's.

Best man was the groom's brother, Mr. Tony Cecchetti, Mr. Barry Houston and Mr. Charles Elksnites ushered the guests. Page boy was the groom's nephew, Robbie Cecchetti.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Robertson chose a bouffant dress of beige lace with accessories in a darker shade. Her hat was of live Sweetheart roses in pink and mauve tones and she wore a matching corsage.

The groom's mother's dress of green crepe was complemented by brown accessories. She wore a brown leaf hat and yellow cymbidium orchids en corsage.

Wedding music was played by James Whittle and Mr. Thomas Edge was soloist.

At a reception in the Club Mocombo, Dr. C. D. Taylor proposed a toast to the bride.

For travelling, the bride changed to a Louis Schrier original ensemble of tweed in shades of mauve. Her Corsage was a white gardenia and she wore black accessories.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Scott and Mrs. Keith Bowers, all of Saskatoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecchetti will make their home in Edmonton.

It is indeed a very lovely family dwelling and a beautiful scene for a wedding.*

Walker--Crum ---- Hammond Crum of Denmark Married to Easley Girl.

A wedding impressive in every detail took place here Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Obera Walker, daughter of Dr. J. C. Walker, became the bride of Hammond Crum, of Denmark. The Rev. D. W. Hiott, of Easley, was the officiating minister, the ring ceremony being used.

The suburban home of the bride was a lovely scene for the occasion, the reception room, parlor, and dining room being thrown together. Ferns, potted plants and pink cut flowers were used in profusion in these rooms. The scene was made more effective by the use of pink shaded lights with pink candles burning. The ceremony was performed beneath an altar banked with masses of ferns and pink gladioli and twined with ivy. The white satin love knot fell from this.

Before the ceremony was performed, Miss. May Wyatt played Schubert's "Serenade" on the piano. The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. First to enter the parlor were the pages, Thomas Bolt, of Easley, and Powell Thomas, of Greenville. They opened the aisle of ribbon for the bridal party. Next came the little ring bearer, Cecil Arial. She carried the ring in the heart of a rose. The bride entered from the dining room with her sister, Miss Christine Walker, as maid of honor. The bridegroom entered from the reception room with Hal Powell, of Augusta, as best man. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue tricotine with hat and accessories of gray. Her corsage was of Russell roses.

The bride is an attractive and very accomplished young woman. She is a graduate of Winthrop college. The bridegroom is a progressive business man.

Only a few relatives and intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. After the wedding an ice course was served the guests on the spacious porch by Misses Margaret and Anniebel Wyatt.

The out of town guests were: Mrs. John W. Crum, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. G. C. High, of Denmark; Mrs. H. R. Powell and H. R. Powell, Jr., of Augusta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thomas and S. B. Wells, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Powell, of Williamston, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allison, of Montgomery, Ala.

The bride and bridegroom left immediately after the wedding for a trip to the mountains of North Carolina. They will be at home in Denmark after August 7.

Wedding In Athens, Ga., Of Interest -- Williams-Hodgson Rites Are Prominent Among Winter's Events.

Friday evening, January 30, at eight o'clock, in Athens, Ga., Miss Harriett Hendricks Williams became the bride of Robert Francis Hodgson. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Barnett Osborne Williams at 660 Cobb Street, and was witnessed by only the closest friends and members of the two families. A reception followed.

The wedding is of interest in Greenville and throughout South Carolina. The bride until a short time ago resided at Clemson with her parents.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Strahan Hodgson of Athens and descended from a long line of prominent Georgians.

Dr. James Cuthbert Wilkinson was the officiating clergyman. The wedding music was presented by Mrs. Lester Quattlebaum.

The altar was improvised at one end of the drawing room. Potted palms furnished a background of green for the tall floor baskets of gladioli's and cathedral tapers which burned in seven-branched candelabra. The aisle leading to the altar was marked with baskets of white gladioli's between which white ribbons were draped. These were held by Miss Katherine Morgan of Guyton, Ga., Miss Elizabeth Jenkins of Hartwell, Ga., Mrs. George Hamilton Horton of Spartanburg, Miss LaGrange Trussell of Athens, Mrs. Robert Wilson of Athens, and Miss Margaret Paddock, also of Athens.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Nell Woodruff Hodgson, the bridegroom's only sister, who was maid of honor. She wore an off-the-shoulder model of jewel pink slipper satin, showing torso-length fitted bodice and full, bouffant skirt sprayed with pink and blue forget-me-nots. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of blue Siberian iris and pink roses, tied with pale blue ribbons.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Reginald Hutchins Hodgson of Atlanta, as best man, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore white slipper satin with sweetheart neckline and close-fitting bodice adorned with tiny self-covered buttons down the back. The leg-o-mutton sleeves ended in a point over the wrist. The full flowing skirt ended in a long train over which fell a veil of illusion fastened to her hair with a coronet of seed pearls. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her flowers were a bouquet of bride's roses showered with swansonia and bavardia.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at which the wedding guests were entertained by the bride's parents. Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Mallary, Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins Hodgson, Mr. and Mrs. Whitsitt Hiott of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Rogers, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson.

Late in the evening, the bride changed her wedding dress to a two-piece suit of rose Trico tulle with which she wore a feathered toque of the same shade. Her bag and shoes were in a harmonizing shade of brown and her gloves were of handmade doeskin. She wore a corsage of blue Siberian iris. Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson are spending their honeymoon in New Orleans, La., and on their return to Georgia will be at the home of friends in Athens.

For the wedding and reception, the bride's mother, the former Miss Lillian Hendricks, of South Carolina, wore a dress of dusty-rose lace with shoulder corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore hyacinth blue chiffon and her flowers were a shoulder corsage of camellias.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bolling Jones, Dr. and Mrs. G. Hodgson, and Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins Hodgson of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodruff of Wilmington, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hendricks, of Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Whitsitt Hiott, Bill and Bo Hiott, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Roberts, of Monroe, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Scarborough, of Columbia; Lt. and Mrs. John B. Rogers, of Fort Moultrie, Charleston, and Lt. and Mrs. George H. Horton of Camp Croft, Spartanburg.

Mrs. Hodgson was graduated from Calhoun-Clemson high school and in her senior year was selected the most outstanding member of her class. For two years she attended Winthrop college in Rock Hill, and during her freshman year was honorary cadet colonel of the Clemson Corps of cadets. At Winthrop she was an officer of her class and was on the junior staffs of the year book and the school newspaper. She was a drum majorette and an officer of the art club. In her junior year she transferred to the University of Georgia, where she continued to major in art. Last year she was selected one of the nine co-eds in the beauty section of the Pandora, University of Georgia year book. She is now a senior and is an officer of the University Art league and a member of the University Woman's council. She is a member of the Chi Omega social sorority.

Since 1941 Mr. Hodgson has been with the Atlantic Refining company, first in Philadelphia and now in Macon and Augusta. His paternal grandparents are the former Mary Virginia Stranhan and the late Mr. E. R. Hodgson. His mother, the former Miss Lydia Hutchins, is the daughter of Laura Rutherford and the late J. C. Hutchins. On his father's side Mr. Hodgson is descended from the Stranhan and Hodgson families and on his mother's side from the Cobb and Rutherford families.

Mr. Hodgson graduated from Athens high school in 1936, where he was outstanding in school activities, being the only four-letter man ever to graduate from this school. He was also a member of the National Honor society and an officer of his class. He attended Princeton university for two years and was graduated from the University of Georgia, where he was an officer of the Marketing club and a member of the Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

Barksdale-Hendricks.

Miss Winona Barksdale and Mr. Doyle Hendricks were married Thursday night, December 21, 1922, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barksdale. The ceremony was performed in the parlor which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the bay window which was outlined with an arch of white stood a handsome fern and beyond this was the piano, made bright with bowls of japonicas and with Christmas candles. White pedestals outlined the passage for the bridal party and on each was a handsome crystal candelabra filled with red candles. Ivy, evergreens and white candles were used throughout the room.

Before the entrance of the bridal party Miss Fannie Stark sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Miss Mary Milford.

The bridal party entered in the following order:

Rev. H. L. Weeks entered alone and was followed by the groom who was escorted by his brother, Mr. Leon Hendricks. Miss Louise Long, as maid of honor, pretty in a jade green taffeta and carrying Killarney roses, came next. She was followed by Mrs. W. D. Barksdale as dame of honor, who wore a handsome dress of white faille, with silver cloth girdle. She carried Pink Roses.

(portion missing) fashioned bouquet of pink forget-me-nots. Winona Welsh was flower girl and was pretty in a dress of pink maline.

The bride was escorted by her father Mr. W. D. Barksdale. She wore a bride's dress of white faille with self-trimmings and a veil looped back with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of bride's roses.

The gentlemen wore the conventional black.

After the ceremony which was witnessed by only the intimate friends of the family, a reception was held which was largely attended and was a lovely affair. The decorations were most elaborate and in all except the ceremony room the Christmas spirit was emphasized. In the hall Christmas wreathes, holly and red candles were effective. The punch bowl, presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Fulp was surrounded by holly. Nearby the open fire with its cozy blaze gave a colonial touch to the scene. Miss Ada Faulkner and James Bradley had charge of the brides' book in the hall.

Receiving at the door was Miss May Robertson, Miss Fannie Stark and Mr. J. M. Nickles. In the parlor, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Perrin, Dr. and Mrs. S. G. Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jones assisted the bridal party. In the dining-room the decorations were beautiful. Holly was banked every where, Christmas bells and candles made the whole room gay while the table was lovely in its covering of lace. Silver candlesticks with red candles surrounded the lovely centerpiece of red carnations.

Mrs. C. D. Brown and Mrs. C. A. Milford presided at the table and cream, cake and mints were served by Misses Grace Milford, Jeanse White, Mary Barksdale, Marion Wilson and Debbie Owens.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks left for a wedding trip after which they will return to Abbeville and made their home.

Mrs. Hendricks is the third daughter of Mr. Barksdale and is a young woman of many fine qualities. She is a graduate of Coker College where she specialized in music. Mr. Hendricks is a graduate of Clemson College and for the past year has superintended the Rosenberg farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks will have apartments at the Raycroft home.

Henderson-Williams.

Beauty and simplicity marked the consummation of the wedding vows of Miss Mabel Claire Henderson and Mr. Ford W. Williams at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ross Henderson of Easley, on Wednesday evening, June 2, at 6:30 o'clock. Rev. D. W. Hiott of Pickens, former pastor of the bride, officiating.

The interior of this home was lovely, a soft and tasteful decoration of pink and white. The hall was effectively decorated with ferns and beautiful white roses. The large room on the right was used for the ceremony room, while a similar room on the left was the room in which the guests assembled. Both rooms were beautiful in their simple but lovely decoration of tiny pink roses, large ferns and palms. The mantels being banked in both rooms with the little pink roses and innumerable tall white candles were used, from which gleamed the soft glow of the lighted tapers.

Mrs. B. G. Collins of Birmingham, Ala., beautifully rendered the wedding March to which entered the only attendants, Miss Margaret Jameson and Mr. Bob Lathem; then came the bride and groom, who took their places under a lovely arch of pink roses. Mrs. Collins played "A Garland of Old-Fashioned Roses" very softly during the impressive ceremony. In this beautifully arranged room and surrounded by relatives and a few close friends the two betrothed hearts were made one.

Immediately after the ceremony a delicious ice course bearing out the color scheme of pink and white was served by Misses Mae Pepper and Olive Henderson.

The bride was attired in a most becoming suit of blue with hat and gloves to match. Mrs. Williams, as Miss Henderson, is a young woman of unusual personal charm and attraction, and has a host of friends here who regret to give her up, but are glad that her home is no farther moved than Dacusville.

Mr. Williams is a prominent young merchant of Dacusville, and is held in the highest esteem by his numerous friends.

Many handsome and useful presents attested the popularity of this couple. They will be at home to their many friends in Dacusville after June 9.

Williams-Jones.

Climelia Elizabeth Ariail South Carolina Family Line.

Miss Williams-Mr. Jones Wed.

Notable among June weddings was the marriage of Miss Helen Williams and Richard Abner Jones, which was solemnized on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Wellington Williams, on East Maine street.

Against a background of white and green, an improvised altar was formed at one end of the living room. A artistic arrangement of Madonna lilies in white pedestal baskets, palms, ferns, and cathedral candles in white tiered candelabra effected a beautiful setting before which the young couple plighted their troth, in the presence of the immediate families, a few close relatives and friends.

The Rev. W. R. Poindexter, of Williamston, a former pastor of the bride, was the officiating minister.

Prior to the ceremony Miss Harriet Martin played "Love's Old Sweet Song," while Craig Williams, brother of the bride, and Lake Williams lighted the candles. Miss Frances Smith, of Greer, accompanied by Miss Martin at the piano, sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The wedding party assembled to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin and during the ceremony Miss Martin played "To a Wild Rose."

Miss Williams had as her attendants her mother, as matron of honor, her sister as bridesmaid, and Miss Margaret Garrison as maid of honor.

Mrs. Williams was attired in a lovely gown of Wallis blue love with which she wore corsage of pink rosebuds. Miss Garrison wore a blue and white chiffon with a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Miss Williams' costume was fashioned of pink lace and her flowers were blue delphiniums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her costume was a lovely chiffon ensemble of figured brown and white, with touches of hunter's green, with which she wore a smart brown straw and taffeta hat and harmonizing accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of orchids.

The groom was attended by his brother, Conway Jones, of Fountain Inn, as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was enjoyed.

Mrs. Jones is the oldest daughter of her parents. She received her education at Easley high school and Queens-Chicora. She was a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and was an attendant at the May festival. She is one of Easley's loveliest daughters and is very popular with a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jones, of Fountain Inn. He is a graduate of Duke university where he was a member of Pi Kappa Sigma fraternity, vice president of the senior class, and a member of the varsity football team.

After returning from a wedding trip to New York, Washington, Canada, Chicago and other points, Mrs. and Mrs. Jones will reside in Easley, where Mr. Jones is connected with the Jones Furniture company.

Miss Williams Is Bride Of Capt. Glen F. Vick.

On Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Carolyn Williams of this city, became the bride of Captain Glen Franklin Vick, of Cleburne, Tex., and Campbell, Ky., in a ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Wellington Williams, on East Main street.

The rites were performed at the end of the living room before an improvised altar of palms, fern, Madonna lilies, white gladioli and ruffled daisies. White tapers in tall candelabra shed a soft illumination on the setting. The officiating minister was the bride's pastor, Dr. Carl A. DeVane who used the double ring ceremony.

The program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Winona Hendricks of Liberty, at the piano, and Miss Sara Holleman of Seneca, soloist. The wedding party entered to the strains of the Wedding March from "Lohengrin." "To a Wild Rose," by McDowell was played during ceremony and Miss Holleman sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because".

The candles were lighted by R., A. Jones, brother in law of the bride, and J. Henry Sitton, Jr.

The bride was attended by her only sister, Mrs. R. A. Jones, as matron of honor and the bridegroom had as his best man, Major E. R. Thomas of West Port, N. Y., and Drew Field, Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Jones was becomingly attired in a gown of flying blue chiffon. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of pink roses and delphinium tied with rose satin ribbon.

The bridesmaid and maid of honor, Miss Edith Carter of Wadesboro, N. C., and Mrs. Ralph P. Berry, Jr., of Greenville, who wore identical dresses of delicate pink marquisette. They carried arm bouquets of pink carnations and delphinium, tied with satin ribbon.

The bride entered the ceremony room with her father by whom she was given in marriage. She was very lovely in a gown of white satin and fashioned princess style with lace insertions extending from the shoulder seams to the full length of her skirt. Her veil of illusion, and imported lace was caught to her hair with a coronet of orange blossoms and extended the full length of the long train. Her flowers were bride's roses and white orchids.

Mrs. Williams, mother of the bride, was attired in pink lace with corsage of pale pink carnations and delphinium.

Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Williams entertained at an informal reception.

Captain and Mrs. Vick left following the reception for a short wedding trip. While away they will visit the bridegroom's parents in Cleburne, Texas. For traveling Mrs. Vick wore a brown and white Bamberg suit, with brown and white accessories and a shoulder corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Vick was educated in the Easley schools and at Queens college graduating from Queens in the class of 1942. She taught in the Liberty schools last year.

Captain Vick received his education in Cleburne, Texas, schools and at Arkansas State Teachers college. He has been in the Army Air Corps since October, 1940, and is at present stationed at Camp Campbell, Ky., where he and his bride will reside.

HOW THEY MET

Hannah and Cameron met over Christmas break in 2009 while they were both home from college at a party. Hannah insisted that Cameron show his license to her to prove his age. At the end of the night, Cameron said he would text her the next day (because who calls anymore?), but Hannah didn't believe it. Thankfully, he did and their first date was New Year's Eve 2009. Hannah even tried to get her friends, Diana and Jessica, to come with her on the date! After Cameron picked Hannah up, they went to Walmart. Yes, you read that right--Walmart--and if you want the full scoop, you'll have to ask!

They both didn't want the date to end so Cameron cancelled his plans with his friend Richard (sorry Richard!), and came with Hannah to a New Year's Eve party and then back to her Mom's house for the midnight ball drop. It might have been the longest first date in history.

THEIR JOURNEY

After Christmas break ended, Cameron went back to Anderson University where he was a senior with his friends, Kaleb and Ben, and Hannah went back to USC where she was a junior. Cameron traveled back and forth from Anderson to visit Hannah in Columbia every other weekend.

One night, Cameron and Hannah were writing messages back and forth to each other on a mini white board. Hannah expected Cameron to ask her to be his girlfriend on the white board, thinking how great and cute of a story it would be. Cameron did not pick up on the memo during the white board questionnaire, but they did make it official later that evening.

Cameron graduated and moved back to Greenville and Hannah started her senior year of college. Cameron continued to come to Columbia to be with Hannah, even selling his PlayStation to have gas money! For those that know Cameron, that was a major sacrifice!

After graduation, Hannah moved to Charleston with Emily, Diana, Jessica, and Kelly. Cameron stayed in Greenville and lived with his friend, Josh. They both continued to travel back and forth to visit one another. This time even from a further distance.

Finally, after 3 1/2 years, Cameron and Hannah moved together to Syracuse, NY where Hannah started the Physician Assistant program at Le Moyne College. For the first time, they were in the same area code and loved it! They battled the snow and freezing cold as well as adjusting to living in the Yankee North. There they made many friends including Rachel, Kaylie, Kurt, and Sean.

After graduating, Cameron and Hannah moved to Washington, D.C., to experience all that the U.S. capital had to offer.

THE PROPOSAL

After 6 1/2 years of dating, on June 24, 2016, Kurt and Rachel flew in from MN and traveled with Hannah and Cameron from DC to Kaylie and Sean's Virginia Beach apartment. They spent the day at the beach and headed back to the apartment to get ready for dinner. Hannah put on a sundress--Kaylie thought Hannah should wear something different. Hannah went through her luggage and opened her mom's birthday gift to her to see if any cute clothes had been sent! (It was a very lovely purse, instead) Disclaimer-Hannah likes to open gifts on her actual birthday--June 25th. Hannah became suspicious and asked Cameron if he was going to propose; Cameron, of course, said no.

Hannah decided on a white beach dress. On the way out to catch an Uber to dinner, Hannah noticed that Cameron had a gift that he was bringing with him. Hannah insisted that Cameron leave the gift because she did not want to open another gift when it wasn't her birthday and did not want to carry around whatever gift was inside all night. Cameron told her she had to open the gift and began unwrapping the paper in the middle of the kitchen. Hannah finished unwrapping and opened up the box to a white board that said "Sorry I didn't ask you out with the white board 6 years ago. Hopefully this makes up for it. Will you marry me?" Hannah said yes! Their friends cheered and then they were whisked away by their Uber chariot and arrived at the restaurant.

They walked in and out came Jessica and her husband, Cecil! Another surprise! Hannah cried for the second time that night! They had a beautiful dinner out on the beach with complimentary champagne! It was a beautiful evening surrounded by friends!

Later, Hannah learned that Cameron's initial plan had been to propose at the restaurant on the beach. He had told Sean that whatever happened, he did NOT want to propose to Hannah in their kitchen. However, since Hannah insisted on not having the box come to the restaurant, the kitchen proposal happened!

Miss Coleman Weds Mr. Starr At Lovely Afternoon Ceremony.

A marriage characterized by beauty and simplicity was that of Miss Addie Cureton Coleman and Richard Howard Starr, which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman LaFayette Coleman on East North avenue.

Dr. Wallace Rogers, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, performed the beautiful, impressive ceremony in the presence of an assemblage limited to family connections and intimate friends.

The home was transformed into a bower of spring like loveliness. The ceremony was performed in the living room before an improvised altar. The altar was flanked on each side by banks of handsome palms and ferns and in the foreground stood cathedral candelabra holding tall unshaded tapers. On each side of the altar were tall floor baskets holding Easter lilies and long graceful sprays of bridal wreath. An aisle was formed to the altar by standards linked together by wide bands of satin ribbon.

Beautiful nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. John Wesley Shinhelser and Mrs. Asa Candler Glenn. During the ceremony lovely music was softly played.

Reception Event Of Recent Date --- Mrs. B. L. Kinard Entertains In Honor Of Recent Bride At Ninety Six.

Ninety-Six. Aug. 12, 1935 --- One of the most beautiful social functions of the season was the lovely reception at which Mrs. B. L. Kinard entertained on Saturday afternoon complimenting her son's bride, Mrs. Hayne Kinard, who before her recent marriage was Miss Grace Craig, of Oconee.

The rooms of the home were thrown en suite and Southern smilax, flinging its sprays in graceful - festoons over windows and against walls, created a lovely background for the decorations in which a color motif of green and yellow prevailed.

Mrs. Nora K. Osborne and Mrs. Nannie Addison greeted the guests at the porch where quantities of pink crepe myrtle in wall baskets and other containers lent a colorful note of welcome. Mrs. T. P. Lipscomb and Miss Ellen Anderson received at the hall door and directed to the reception room which was beautifully arranged with tall floor baskets of yellow gladioli, ferns and smilax. Receiving here with Mrs. Kinard, were Mrs. Hayne Kinard, Mrs. Marvin Summer, of Newberry, Mrs. Joe Kirkpatrick, of Winnsboro; Mrs. Hagood Clary and Mrs. Bennett Clary, of Newberry, Misses Christine Kinard and Nita Moore entertained in the reception room.

Mrs. M. M. Clary and Mrs. W. P. B. Kinard led to the dining room where Mrs. Ira M. Dominick and Mrs. H. B. Kinard presided. This room was especially attractive. A handsome lace banquet cloth graced the table which was centered with a beautiful wedding cake, white with touches of yellow, a three tier creation of loveliness and the fulfillment of an artist's dream. Yellow candles in silver holders, interspersed with sprays of lace fern, were the other table appointments. Containers of yellow flowers on mantle and buffet, flanked with silver candelabra holding yellow candles completed the decorations. Delicious refreshments of chicken mayonnaise, ham sandwiches, potato chips, wafers, pickle and iced tea were served by Misses Emma Frances Paysinger, June Kinard and Pauline Summer, and mints were passed by little Mayr Kellar Hart. Misses Lizelle and Virginia Kinard pinned favors.

The guests were conducted to the music room by Mrs. Jeff Kinard and Mrs. Marie Moyd and here Mrs. H. L. Kinard entertained. A beautiful musical program was rendered throughout the receiving hours by Mrs. Tom Kinard, Mrs. Sue Self, Mrs. Cecile Kinard Smathers, Mrs. Rinehart Kinard, Mrs. J. C. Smith, Mrs. J. A. Barrett, Miss Marshall Self.

A large number of guests called during the hours from 5 to 6:30 o'clock.
